About the Clinician Pianist Mr. James McCormick

As winner of the Civic Orchestra of Chicago Solo Auditions, James McCormick made his debut at Chicago Orchestra Hall with Samuel Barber's piano concerto. Performances throughout the Midwest included appearances with the Milwaukee Symphony Chamber Ensemble and with the Green Bay Symphony where he premiered Gordon Parmentier's Mirrors: A Concertino for Piano and Orchestra.

Mr. McCormick obtained his undergraduate and Master's degrees in piano performance from Northern Illinois University. As a postgraduate student at USC, he was Assistant to James Bonn and John Perry and was the first pianist there to receive both the Leo Podolsky Performance Prize and the June Davison Pedagogy Award. His primary teachers include John Perry, Donald Walker and Adele Marcus.

Formerly on the faculty at Cal State University Long Beach, he currently has private studios in Santa Monica and Palm Springs. His monthly performance classes have been well attended by Los Angeles area teachers and pianists for the past sixteen years.
